

Statement by Ambassador Jayant Prasad, Permanent Representative of India to the Conference on Disarmament introducing the Resolution “Measures to Prevent Terrorists from Acquiring Weapons of Mass Destruction” in the First Committee of the UN General Assembly 62nd Session, New York, October 23, 2007

Mr. Chairman,

I have the honour to introduce the draft resolution entitled "Measures to prevent terrorists from acquiring weapons of mass destruction," contained in document L 22.

This resolution, first adopted in 2002, has continued to command consensus and growing support both in the First Committee and the General Assembly. The representative character of the General Assembly validates and reinforces the commitments we assume as Member States in regard to its objective. The resolution, therefore, has continuing relevance as a clear reaffirmation from a body that is both universal and democratic.

It gives expression to the concerns of the international community and calls upon UN Member States to take measures aimed at preventing terrorists from acquiring weapons of mass destruction. It underlines that the international response to this threat needs to be inclusive, multilateral and global. This approach has been widely endorsed by the Member States of the United Nations, by the Non-Aligned Movement, the G-8, the European Union and most other regional fora, including the Regional Forum of the Association of South-East Asian Nations.

Besides some technical updates, the resolution reiterates its request to the Secretary General to compile a report on measures taken by international organizations on issues relating to the linkage between the fight against terrorism and the proliferation of weapons of mass destruction. It thus equips the General Assembly with system-wide information on the work being done on this issue within the United Nations as well as in other bodies.

I appeal to delegations of the First Committee to continue their strong support to this initiative, especially through additional co-sponsorship of the resolution. This will underline the engagement of the entire UN membership on this vital issue.
